

Berkey's Assessment of Games

1. Name of the game: Lacrosse goaltending, twenty feet
2. Source of the game: Doug Paran
3. Brief description of the game: At two different ends of the field, three single file lines of four to six players face a goaltender from a distance of twenty feet. The first person in each line has a soft street hockey ball. One line is off to the goaltender's right, one off to his left, and one directly in front. The first player in line to the goaltender's right scoops up a ball and from his position attempts to score. Using good goaltending mechanics the goaltender attempts to make the save, then shuffles to square up on the first person in line directly facing him, who in turn attempts to score. This process is repeated by the first person to the goaltender's left. The goaltender then returns the balls to the next person in each line and the drill is repeated.
